

"End of the Line": A Tapestry of Love, Loss, and the Enduring Power of Family

In-Text Citation with CSE

The Name-Year system is recommended by many professors in the Dalhousie Department of Biology, but if you're not sure which system to use, be sure to check:

author's last name → (RICE 2010) ← publication year

All of these pieces of information must match the corresponding reference list entry exactly!

Example in-text citations, from fictional authors and sources:

Research has shown that the demographic of the fly is a key determining factor in the robustness of its flavour (Frog 1998).

You could also place part of the citation in the text as follows:

As mentioned in Frog seminal article (1998), the demographic of the fly is a key determining factor in the robustness of its flavour.

In this example, the author's name is mentioned in the text itself, therefore, the name need not be repeated in the bracketed citation.

Prepare yourself for a literary journey that will transport you to the depths of human emotion and leave an enduring imprint on your soul. "End of the Line" is a poignant and captivating novel that explores the intricate tapestry of love, loss, and the unbreakable bonds of family.
